Welcome to Victory Education!

Dear Families,

I am thrilled to begin the 2025–2026 school year with each of you!

Victory Education is a special place in our Western New York community, deeply rooted in the legacy of Father Baker. His lifelong commitment to compassion, service, and uplifting others continues to inspire our work today. That legacy lives on in our mission and in the care we show for every student and family we serve.

At Victory Education, our mission is clear: to empower students to grow academically, socially, emotionally, and vocationally while fostering hope, independence, and the core values that prepare them for lifelong success. We believe that every “victory,” no matter how big or small, is worth celebrating, because each step forward is meaningful in your child’s journey.

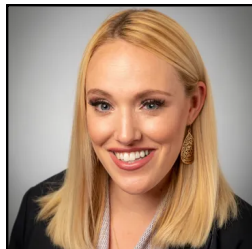

Our continued growth would not be possible without the strong partnership we share with you. Your involvement, support, and trust are essential to everything we do. As a trauma-informed agency, we are committed to creating a safe, nurturing, and inclusive environment where students feel seen, heard, and valued. Guided by our RICH philosophy (Respect, Information, Connection, and Hope) we strive to build strong relationships with our students, families, and school community.

We look forward to a year filled with learning, growth, and many victories. Thank you for being an essential part of the Victory Education family. Together, let’s make 2025–2026 an incredible year for every student!

Warm regards,

Stephanie Guadagna

Student Illness

We understand that occasionally children may not feel well. The following is a guideline for parents to follow when deciding whether or not to send your child to school. We adhere to these guidelines at school for the health and wellness of all of our students and staff.

If your child becomes ill while in school, there must be an accurate and updated way to contact a parent or guardian, so that you may pick up your child to be cared for at home. We cannot care for ill children at school or provide fever reducing medication.

If your child has been absent from school, please remember to send a written excuse with your child when he/she is well enough to return. Please note: you may be required to bring a note from the doctor in certain circumstances.

Student Dress Code

Victory Education expects students to dress in a manner that supports a safe, respectful, and inclusive learning environment. Our dress code prohibits attire that distracts from instruction, compromises safety, or targets specific student groups. The responsibility for student dress and general appearance rests with individual students and their parent/guardian, or residential campus staff if applicable. OLV will not prescribe student dress while at school-sponsored events based on either fashion or taste as the sole criterion. However, OLV will regulate a student's dress to ensure that students attend school or school-sponsored events in appropriate attire that meets health and safety standards and does not interfere with the learning process. Student dress shall in no way be extreme as to be distracting or disruptive to the educational process of the school.

To promote student safety and support full participation in school activities, Victory Education strongly encourages all students to wear sneakers whenever possible.

Pesticide Notification

In accordance with New York State Education Law §409-H, our school may occasionally use pesticides throughout the year. Families who wish to receive written notice at least 48 hours before any scheduled pesticide application may register for advance notification by contacting the main office.

Please note: As of July 1, 2001, state law requires schools to notify registered parents or guardians before each pesticide application, unless the application takes place after school hours on a Friday or during school vacations. At Victory Education, we limit all pesticide use to either Friday afternoons after students have left for the weekend or during school breaks. This ensures minimal exposure and complies with state guidelines.

FERPA: Access to Student Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act is a federal law that protects the privacy of student educational records. Educational records subject to this protection include all academic, attendance, health, guidance and special service reports. FERPA requires schools to inform parents and students annually of these rights.

Under FERPA, parents and students over 18 years of age (“eligible students”) have the rights to inspect and review the student’s educational records within 45 days from the date in which the school receives a request for access; to request the amendment of the student’s educational records that the parent or eligible student believes to be inaccurate, misleading or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy rights under FERPA; to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without their consent.

Generally, schools must have written permission/consent from the parent or eligible student in order to release any information from a student’s education records. However, FERPA allows schools to disclose records, without consent, to the following parties or under the following conditions to a school official with a legitimate educational interest (i.e., the official needs the record to fulfill his or her professional responsibility); to another school to which the student seeks or intends to enroll; to specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes; to appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student; to organizations conducting certain studies on behalf of the school; to accrediting organizations; to comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena; to appropriate officials in cases of health and safety emergencies; and to state and local authorities, within the juvenile justice system, pursuant to specific State law.

In addition, schools are also permitted to release information, without prior written consent of the parents or eligible student, which has been appropriately designated as “directory information” by the district. Victory Education has designed the following information as “directory information” used in honor roll, merit roll, annual yearbook, graduation programs: student’s name, address, telephone listing, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, degrees, honors and awards received, date and place of birth, grade level, enrollment status, the school most recently previously attended.

If you do not want Victory Education to disclose “directory information” from your child’s education records, you must notify the building principal in writing that you do not want “directory information” disclosed. The written notice to the principal about photo/directory information must be received no later than 14 days after the date of publication of the notice (or within 15 days of newly enrolling in the school).

DASA: Dignity for All Students Act / Non-Discrimination

OLVHS is committed to fostering an educational environment grounded in respect, dignity, and equality, and free from discrimination, harassment, bullying, taunting, or intimidation. OLVHS recognizes that such behavior, whether based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, disability, or any other legally protected category disrupt student learning and negatively impact all members of the school community, including those who are targeted, those who participate, and those who witness such acts. OLVHS strictly prohibits all forms of discrimination and harassment, whether they occur on school property or at school-sponsored events, programs, or activities.

Electronic Device and Social Media

In alignment with New York State’s Distraction-Free Schools Law (Education Law §2803), the use of personal technology devices, including, but not limited to internet enabled cell phones, smart watches, earbuds are prohibited for all students during the school day, including non-instructional times such as breakfast, lunch, and transitions. This law is intended to increase the engagement of the students across all grade levels and reduce distractions in the learning environment.

Students are not permitted to possess cell phones/smart watches/mobile communication devices during the school day. All students will be obligated to turn their cell phones/devices in upon arrival to school staff. Phones will be returned at the end of the day. Cell phone use will not be permitted throughout the school day. All personal technology devices, including smart watches, (as noted above and defined by Educational Law) must be powered off and stored in a building/administrator-directed location throughout the school day.

Exceptions to the Enforcement of the Distraction Free Schools Law may be made only for:

- Devices specified on a student’s IEP or 504 Plan
- Students with documented medical needs who require access to a device that has been reviewed and approved by Administration
- Students who require translation services that have been reviewed and approved by Administration
- Students who have caregiver responsibilities that have been reviewed and approved by administration

Students who fail to comply with expectations set for turning in devices daily may be subject to progressive disciplinary consequences. However, in accordance with Education Law §2803, students shall not be suspended solely for unauthorized use of personal technology devices.

Beginning at age 14, students at Victory Education have the opportunity to participate in our Work-Based Learning (WBL) program. This program gives students hands-on experience at both community-based and agency-based worksites several times a week. Students explore a variety of industries (including food service, hospitality, retail, manufacturing, and more) while continuing to build essential soft skills like communication, teamwork, time management, and problem-solving. WBL is guided by a Transition Specialist and is designed to support classroom learning while helping students prepare for the world of work. Hours are tracked daily, and those who complete at least 216 hours and meet additional requirements may earn a CDOS (Career Development & Occupational Studies) Commencement Credential. This credential can count in place of a fifth Regents exam toward a high school diploma. For students not pursuing a Regents or local diploma, WBL still provides a meaningful pathway to develop job readiness skills in a supportive, structured environment. Work Based Learning supports future planning through transition assessments and goal setting for employment and independent living. If you have any questions, please contact Marga McMahon (716-828-7004 or mmcmahon@olvhs.org).
